How Important is the Patrol Method?

It is necessary to point out at the start that the Patrol System is not one method in which Scouting for boys can be carried out, but that it is the only method.

Then and Now

- William "Green Bar" Bill Hillcourt introduced the Patrol Method
- The Patrol Method makes for stronger troops
- The Scouts like it and they stay.

What is the Patrol Method?

What do you think the Patrol Method is?
Take Any 30 Boys

TAKE any thirty boys, turn them loose in a closed street, a playground, or in a sports field-and you know what happens?

What is a Patrol?

A patrol is that small group of boys and friends under their own leadership who plan and carry out troop and patrol meetings and activities.

It is the basic organizational unit of a Scout troop.

- Scoutmaster Handbook, Chapter 4, The Boy-Led Patrol

Aspects of a Patrol

• Friends and Responsibility
• Small Size - Up to 8 Boys
• Should the Patrol be able to function without the troop?

What is the Patrol Method?

• Patrols and their boy leaders run the program in their Patrols and the Troop.
• The adults stand aside and let the Scouts do it all.
• Patrols teach youth leadership

The Aims of the Patrol Method

• The primary aim of the Patrol Method is to teach leadership.
• Scouts learn leadership by leading.
• The Scoutmaster provides them with the tools and encouragement to do their jobs.

Setting Up and Maintaining Patrols

There are three kinds of patrols:

1. New-Scout patrols (for youth just joining the troop)
2. Regular patrols (usually for boys who have earned at least the First Class rank)
3. Venture patrols (made up of older Scouts)

- The Scoutmaster Handbook, Chapter 4, "The Boy-Led Patrol"
Patrol Leaders

- Patrol elects a patrol leader. (usually every 6 months)
- The patrol leader takes the leading role
- Each patrol leader can appoint an assistant

- etc

Building Patrol Spirit

Why is Patrol Spirit Important?

What happens when Patrols lose Patrol Spirit?

Is it OK if a Scout says “My patrol is better than yours?”

Names some ways to develop Patrol Spirit

National Honor Patrol Award

This award is given to patrols whose members make an extra effort to have the best patrol possible over a three month period.

Requirements can be found: Scoutmaster Handbook, Chapter 4, The Boy-Led Patrol and in Patrol Leader’s Handbook

Discussion: Scenario

“That is all right, all you have been saying about The Patrol Method. But I tried it in my Troop, and it just doesn’t work!”

“Take last week, for instance. We had our program all outlined, but the boys fell down on it. The Patrol Leaders had forgotten to prepare their Scouts, equipment was missing, and our game leader didn’t show up. I simply had to take over the meeting myself in order to keep it from being a general mix-up!”

Scouting Functions Through Patrols

Make the Patrol the unit ALWAYS, in and out, through thick and thin, for better and worse in victory and defeat, in games and on hikes, and in camp.
